DESIGN ANDREAS OSTWALD

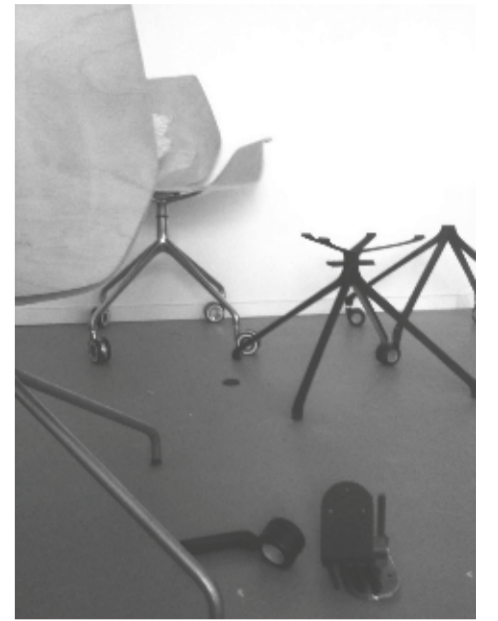

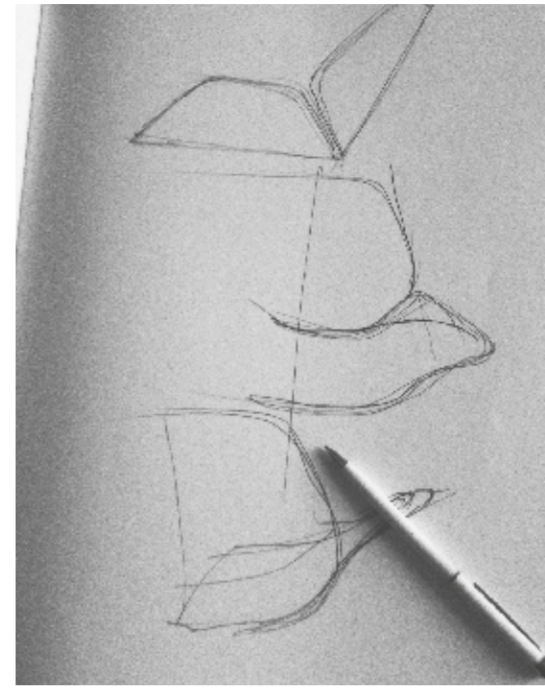

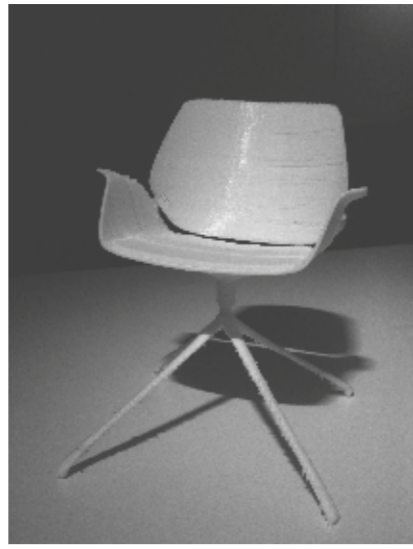

CENTURO; MARKING A CENTURY OF DISTINCTIVE DESIGN

To celebrate our 100th anniversary, we are introducing a unique chair. Centuro is a conference chair characterised by authentic design and high-quality sitting comfort; an elegant culmination of 100 years of design history.

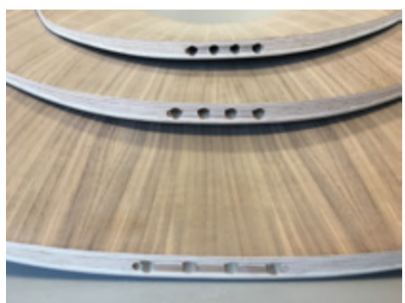

THE PROCESS

Centuro was designed by Andreas Ostwald, a leading designer in the field of contract furniture. Casala has deliberately chosen to work with Ostwald due to his distinctive and uncompromising design. The result: a refined chair with a stylish and contemporary look.

"With 100 years of furniture craftsmanship we bring design without compromises. Centuro, elegance at its best."

Frank van der Winkel - Sales Director, Casala

"Centuro is the outcome of a unique creative collaboration."

Andreas Ostwald

Andreas Ostwald (1964) studied at the Muthesius University of Fine Arts and Design in Kiel, Germany. In 1996 he started OstwaldDesignStudio. He was a professor at the University of the Arts in Bremen between 2005 and 2014. In his research process, Ostwald is always looking for uniqueness, leading to the creation of some very special products and spaces. Core of his philosophy is the ambition for aesthetic perfection, attainable only through absolute proportions, with numerous design awards as a result.

CENTURO & TEMO CONFERENCE SETTING

CENTURO

It's all in the family

Centuro has been specifically designed for meeting and conference rooms. It is delivered as standard in high quality oak and walnut veneer, and upholstered when desired. Its aluminum 4-star base is state of the art design and features many options, including seat height adjustment for optimum ergonomic sitting comfort. With its many variations, Centuro is a beautiful addition to the Casala portfolio.
